

On January 1, 2007, the words "Diagnostic Specimens" will no longer be authorized for shipments of biological commodities classified as UN3373. In its place will be the new Proper Shipping Name: "Biological Substance, Category B" (reference IATA Dangerous Goods Regulations, 48th Edition, Section 3.6.2.2.2.2, Note).

This rule change requires that all packages of UN3373 be marked with this new proper shipping name as well as UN3373 in the diamond-shaped marking, as per below:

UN 3373 labels

These labels may be purchased from suppliers that sell shipping containers and packaging materials such as:
